TO RESIST THE ATTACK—of the germs of Consumption, Grip, Malaria and many other diseases—means fight or die for all of us. These germs are everywhere in the air we breathe. The odds are in favor of the germs. If the liver is inactive and the blood impure, what is needed most is an increase in the germ-fighting strength. To do this successfully you need to put on healthy flesh, rouse the liver to vigorous action, so it will throw off these germs, and purify the blood so that there will be no "weak spot" or soil for germ-growth.

We claim for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery that it does all this in a way peculiar to itself. It cures troubles caused by torpid liver or impure blood.

MASSSED SUPPORT FOR COX SOUGHT BY OHIO UNIONS

Labor Expected to Be Directly Urged to Back His Campaign.

Massed support of Gov. James M. Cox, the democratic candidate, by organized labor is being sought, and the national headquarters of the American Federation has been appealed to unite the 4,000,000 voting strength of labor behind the democratic standard bearer.

The movement was started by the Central Labor Union of Ohio, which has sent a strong telegram in behalf of Cox to the federation headquarters. "Cox certainly stands well with the labor people in Ohio," was the only comment that Frank Morrison, secretary of the A. F. of L., would make today.

Lays Records Before Unions.
It was pointed out by labor leaders that the federation does not declare for any one candidate as against another, but does prepare the records of the candidates and lays them before the affiliated unions, so that the individual union man when voting can intelligently cast his ballot for the man whose record shows his attitude toward the aims of organized labor.

In this connection it was stated by several officials of the federation that "Harding's record is not good" on labor matters, and that the record of Cox will show up well in comparison and the organized labor men of the country indirectly will be urged to support Cox.

Gompers to Call Council.
Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has been in San Francisco attending the democratic convention, as he was in Chicago at the republican convention. When he returns to Washington next week he will call a meeting of the executive council of the federation and lay before it the platform of the two conventions with respect to the labor plank, with his own views on this subject, and will discuss with the executive council the relative records of the two candidates.

Efforts are now being made to interest Gov. Cox particularly in the labor plank of the democratic convention, which was adopted at the suggestion of Mr. Gompers. This plank declared against the labor clauses of the Esch-Cummings law and arbitration schemes of the kind contained in the Kansas industrial court law. Labor leaders familiar with Cox's attitude toward labor expect no trouble in getting such an assurance from him.

CUMMINGS CONFIDENT, SAYS IN WIRE TO COX

Conclusions Reached in Truly Democratic Way, He Tells Nominee.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Chairman Homer S. Cummings of the democratic national convention sent a telegram of congratulations to Gov. Cox, the text of which read: "It has been a great honor to reach its conclusions in a truly democratic way. I most cordially congratulate you on the excellent selection and confidently look forward to your election."

Secretary Daniels sent a telegram of congratulation to Gov. Cox, saying, "Your record for progressive policies as congressman and governor gives assurance of a continuation of the measures of progress necessary in our national and international policies."

WIRES TO ROOSEVELT.

Edwards Congratulates the "Running Mate to Our Next President."

TRENTON, N. J., July 7.—Gov. Edwards today sent the following telegram of congratulation to Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic candidate for Vice President: "Glad to congratulate you on your selection as running mate to our next President, James M. Cox."

LAST YEAR'S WHEAT NOT YET AT MILLS

Growers of Kansas May Have to Hold Part of Crop in Stacks or Bins.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., July 7.—Kansas wheat growers have been warned by conferences at a meeting of railroad men, farmers and bankers that they may have to hold 60 per cent of the crop in the stacks or bins on their farms, because of lack of transportation to the mills. There is a vast amount of grain from last year's crop still waiting to be moved.

Since the conference, in response to the demand of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Kansas State Board of Agriculture has wired Secretary J. C. Mohler of the state board of agriculture that 14,500 cars will be sent to the mid-west states. It has been estimated that it would take 18,000 cars to move the wheat from last year's crop still remaining in country elevators and on Kansas farms. The state's immediate need is 35,000 cars to adequately handle the situation, Secretary Mohler said. He has received word that Kansas is to get 11,000 cars.

When the present wheat harvest is over, Kansas bankers will have approximately $100,000,000 "tied up" in 1919 and 1920 crops. Of this amount the bankers have advanced $65,000,000 up to the present time on crops that have not been harvested. These were figures given by J. R. Anspaugh, secretary of the Kansas State Bankers Association, at the conference. "The security is good, but the money is hard to get. It will strain every resource to get through safely," said Mr. Anspaugh.

Even the possibility of getting the grain threshed was something but hopeful, because of coal shortage in the wheat country.

FRANCE AVOIDS BREAD CARD.

PARIS, July 6.—The council of ministers today rejected a proposal to re-establish the issuance of bread cards. The ministers said they hoped soon to overcome the bread shortage.

"Am Delighted" Cox Telegraphs Running Mate

DAYTON, July 7.—A telegram of congratulation sent by Gov. Cox to Mr. Roosevelt said: "Please accept my warmest congratulations over the honor that has come to you. I am very much delighted that we are associated together in the contest."

COMMITTEE OF 48 SEES THIRD PARTY

Statement Declares People Demand Genuine Opposition Organization.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Thirty party proponents met in the headquarters of the democratic national convention, according to a statement issued by Howard Williams, national vice chairman of the committee of forty-eight, which has called a convention in Chicago July 10 to 14 for organization of a new party and selection of candidates for President and Vice President.

The statement last night said: "The republican convention adopted a reactionary platform and selected a typical old guard candidate. The people expected relief from the democratic convention and again their hopes are shattered."

False Issues Charged.
"False issues were created; real issues, those of concern to average people, were disregarded intentionally."

A colorless candidate of the conventional type was selected finally by worn-out delegates in the small hours of Tuesday morning.

"In the democratic convention, as in the republican, everything that savored of liberalism was stifled. There is nothing to choose between either party. Both are bankrupt of democratic purpose."

New Party Demanded.
"The people of the United States now demand a genuine opposition party. They demand a new party which will regard sincerely the interests of the voters, a party which offers a constructive program and which assures relief from the tyrannical rule of the 'two-party' system. Such a party will be organized. Now is the time."

The statement also bore the signatures of Amos Pinchot, George L. Record and J. A. H. Hopkins.

Executive Board at Chicago.
CHICAGO, July 7.—Several members of the executive board of the committee of forty-eight arrived today to perfect plans for the convention Saturday which will prepare for the organization of a third political party, according to leaders in the movement.

A. W. Ricker, manager of the Chicago headquarters, said today that credentials had been sent in for more than 700 delegates, according to latest information from New York.

BRYAN'S HEART BURIED.

"Must Pause 'Till It Comes Back," He Says.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7 (by the Associated Press).—"Bryan's heart is in the grave with our cause and I must pause until it comes back to me," said William J. Bryan yesterday in giving his reason for not making any extended statement on the work of the democratic national convention. "My views on the convention's action in reference to the endorsement of prohibition are known," said Mr. Bryan. "I regard it as a very serious mistake—it opened the door to the nomination of a wet candidate. I do not regret what I have said before in regard to the evasion of other issues."

When asked if he would have anything to do with the third party movement, which will begin its convention in Chicago July 10, or would endorse its candidate, Mr. Bryan replied: "I do not care to discuss any other movement. It took the democratic convention quite while to decide on a candidate, and the individual voters have about four months in which to consider the claims of the candidates. I shall use a part of that four months in considering the question."

"I do not care to say anything about congressional plans, but the question suggests a subject which the public cannot overlook. Namely, the importance of selecting a Senate and House that will refuse to increase the alcoholic content in permitted beverages or any other weakening of the enforcement law."

NEW COMMITTEE MEETS.

Discusses Organization, But Soon Adjourns.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 7.—The new democratic national committee met, and after a discussion of plans for reorganization, adjourned subject to the call of Chairman Cummings, who expects to bring the committee together for permanent organization in about two weeks. The meeting probably will be held in Columbus, or Dayton, Ohio, where the presidential candidate, Gov. Cox, has other business was transacted.

PLAY TO WEST SEEN RESULT

Roosevelt Counted On to Swing Progressive Votes in Fall.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Picking a Vice President ordinarily is about as interesting as inaugurating one—he is indistinct in the picture. But the selection of Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, to go along with Gov. Cox on the democratic ticket was an episode in national politics of no minor importance.

Under the rostrum where nominating speeches were being made for a half-dozen vice presidential aspirants, Charlie Murphy of Tammany Hall, George Brennan of Illinois, who is the successor of the late Roger Sullivan; Jim Nugent of New Jersey; Fred Lynch of Minnesota; Wilbur Marsh of Iowa; Norman Mack of New York and Ed Moore, the campfire major, that Gov. Cox, gathered for a conference and in full sight of onlooking correspondents held an informal debate on the merits of Edward Meredith of Iowa, Secretary of Agriculture; Victor Murdock of Kansas, member of the Federal Trade Commission; and bull moose of 1912, and Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State, and also Roosevelt progressive.

Gov. Cox wisely left the choice to the managers here. Mr. Hearst would have liked to see Colby named and there was some thought that the support of the Hearst newspapers would be easily assured if Colby were chosen. But while Tammany favored Colby and gave indication of burying the hatchet with Hearst in the coming effort to re-elect Al Smith, Governor of New York, the leaders argued with Murphy that Roosevelt's name would be worth more votes to the ticket and that his selection would please the McAdoo forces which had been led by Roosevelt.

The western members of the committee were eliminated when it was decided that on account of Cox's wet leanings the campaign had better be waged in the east. Roosevelt, it was contended, would give assurance to westerners that the ticket was progressive. Furthermore, it was suggested that he was popular with Navy men. Of course, Roosevelt's anti-Tammany record in New York state will help get independent democratic votes for the ticket.

Name Counts for Something.
It is an interesting sidelight that many here ventured the opinion that the name of Roosevelt would appeal to those voters who may not exactly confuse Franklin D. Roosevelt with Theodore Roosevelt, but who would consider that all Roosevelts must be worth-while folks. As a matter of fact, the vice presidential candidate whom the democrats have named is a second cousin of the late Col. Roosevelt. It is a coincidence that the colonel started in as an assistant secretary of the navy too, and resigned that job to go into the war, after which he entered politics on a large scale as Governor of New York. The name of Franklin D. Roosevelt has often been suggested for Governor of New York, and the independent democrats were this year thinking of naming him for the United States Senate to oppose Wadsworth.

Franklin Roosevelt is popular in the newspaper men in Washington, who knew him throughout the war as the man who was continuously urging a naval offensive. There has been some talk that Roosevelt didn't agree with Joseph Daniels in the navy, but all thoughts of discord were swept out of consideration by the fulsome speech made by Secretary Daniels for Franklin Roosevelt after the latter had been named by acclamation as the vice presidential candidate.

Play to the West.
One after another the vice presidential aspirants withdrew from the race as soon as the conference under the rostrum was over. The west and all the leaders and bosses agreed that the ticket would be helped immeasurably by the addition of Roosevelt, and, though some observers noted a confession of weakness in the discussion about a western candidate, the decision to fight it out in the east is a bold one. The leaders asked what vice presidential candidate could carry western states that Cox himself couldn't carry and few seemed to think the addition of Murdock or Meredith would contribute as much as would be gained by giving his reason for not making any political advertising already given the name Roosevelt, and the known executive ability and independence in politics of Franklin Roosevelt.

The vice presidential choice helped soothe the disappointment of the McAdoo group from the east, though the westerners shook their heads and shrugged their shoulders as they faced the prospect of campaigning for a man who won his nomination through the support of wet states. But the eastern democracy confidently smiled and said that the election would be won or lost in the east anyway.

It is too soon to say which viewpoint is more logical, but the leaders will probably find on consulting Gov. Cox that he will wisely decide to make as much of the east, west and far west as he must make in the east.

Mrs. Harding Is Now "Snowbird" to the Redskins

MARION, Ohio, July 7.—Mrs. Harding, wife of the republican nominee, was today notified by Rev. Roy Shider, chief of the Federated Tribes of Indians, that both she and the senator had been adopted by the organization and hereafter her Indian name would be "Snow-bird" and his "Red Bird."

In a letter received by Mrs. Harding the Indian chief said the "tribes" prayed that the senator would be the "next great white father of our native Indians" and be honored as the first lady of the Indians as the first lady of the nation.

Corsets for Warm Weather Wear

Every woman likes to change to a fresh corset these warm days, and to as cool and light a garment as she can get. Girdles and hip confiners in soft treco, satins and some batistes, are a grateful change from the heavier corset. For the slender woman, very short girdles of coutil and elastic combined, are cool and comfortable. Waistline corsets, lightly boned and many of them in light weight broches, are not at all warm for summer wear. For the slight and average figures there are many hot weather garments which are ideal.

The heavier woman must have more of a supporting garment. There are the net corsets for very hot weather wear, and in the different makes of finer corsets there are materials and models which need not be too heavy to be comfortable, and yet hold the figure to good lines.

Girdles and Hip Confiners, $2 to $3.50.
Light-weight Corsets, $3.50 to $10.50.
Net Corsets, $2.
